IMPORTANT WARNING * * *

Sound electronic practices and common sense dictate that connections never be made between or to any sensitive components while they have power applied. This can be particularly true when integrating third party automation systems and controllers directly to the ELK-M1G RS232 Serial Port. Examples of these systems are: Control4, AMX, Crestron, etc.

Please remember to Power Down ALL components, the M1G and the third party, before making any connections or disconnections from or to the M1's RS232 Port!

Failure to heed this warning can result in permanent equipment damage and potential voiding of the warranty!
